W. M. ABBITT IN LINE FOR POLITICAL FUTURE

Those who have followed the political career of William M. Abbit, Appomattox, Commonwealth's Attorney, will greet with pleasure the announcement that he will be State chairman for the Democratic campaign this fall. This direction of the campaign to elect the party's nominees for the long and the short terms in the United States Senate, and for the nine seats in the House of Representatives.

Mr. Abbit has long been a political leader in his own county of Appomattox. During recent years he has become recognized in his Congressional District and in the state, as an excellent political organizer. With that recognition has come additional opportunity to acquire political friendships. He was a leader in the campaign of Preston Collins for the Lieutenant Governorship, and in the recent primary campaign of Senator Byrd. Now he steps up a notch and will manage the state campaign of his party preceding the November general election.

Mr. Abbit is definitely in line for greater recognition from his party in the years ahead.

PLAYGROUND BUT NO EQUIPMENT!

When the site for the Appomattox High School was selected, provision was made for ample space. The campus is extensive and adequate. Thanks to WPA projects, the campus is 90% graded. Now, the time is ripe for installing the equipment to make that campus of maximum use as a school playground.

A healthy body goes hand in hand with a trained mind. Appomattox needs an adequate school playground.

The best way to get anything done is to make a start. We are sure that modern playground equipment, like so many things, is hard to get, and expensive. But a start can be made. Emphasis can be on equipment for the smaller pupils. Sand pits should not be too hard or too expensive to set up, and a few dozen saw-logs will give joy and recreation to scores of lower grade pupils. Swings are more expensive and can come later, along with croquet courts, etc. Fine games, after all, enlist a small percentage of the large student body. Let's make a start towards getting some playground equipment for those under ten years of age! Who has a suggestion?

World famine conditions to be eased due to large rice crop.

Uncle Sam Says

Nothing tells the story of our country's strength better than the sight of children at school. Multitudes of them will witness this month the opening of the new Appomattox High School. The dreams of millions of youngsters and their parents for a sound future must be reality. United States Savings Bonds are wonderful checks of reality. A few dollars saved regularly every pay day and invested in U. S. Savings Bonds have the power to provide education. Better opportunities, travel, better housing, and a secure future for your children.

JESUS AND THE LAW OF LOVE

LESSON TEXT—Psalm 119:33-38; Matthew 22:37-40

MEMORY SELECTION—Love is the fulfilling of the law—Romans 13:10

Love fulfilled the law—in Christ, God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son (John 3:16). The law of love is therefore appropriate as the subject of this lesson on the general theme, "Jesus Interprets Old Testament Laws."

Love is the heavenly gift of God, who is love, to man who so much needs his grace and power for his own life and for his living with others.

I. The Mind of Love (Ps. 119:33-35)

Eight times in this psalm there is found the cry of verse 33 for instruction in the laws of God. Man not only must know them, but he must know how they operate. The psalmist here is that of a man who wants to get in step with God, marching out to spiritual warfare and being prepared to respond in prompt obedience to the commands of his divine leader.

Here we have the true mind of love. The one rightly instructed in the principles of God's rule in the world sees that love is the basic requirement, but that it expresses itself in the language of the will of God.

The thought of this passage is well expressed by Dr. W. H. White: "The psalmist had the highest possible conception of love before the revelation in Christ. He saw it at the heart of the universe, and he saw it in the basic order of things. He conceived it as identical with the will of God. He viewed it as the safe, happy path for man. He considered it as the way of wisdom. He passionately desired to embrace it and order his life by it. He saw it imparting wisdom to the naive and simple the benefit of extraordinary judgment. To measure up to the law that he had to the quickened or made alive to it by the power of God."

II. The Manner of Love (Ps. 119:36-40)

Love operates not from necessity, but because of an inner urge which will not be denied. The psalmist prays that his heart may be so inclined toward the Lord and be quickened within that he may be eager to do the will of God.

Love has a technique, if you will, a manner of operation. It avoids certain things which would hinder or prevent its full function and seeks out those attitudes and experiences which will encourage and challenge.

Covetousness must be avoided, for that is idolatry (Col. 3:5). We noted in our lesson of two weeks ago that covetousness makes a man stingy, envious, selfish, proud and foolish. That means that love must rule out this destructive element. Love cannot live in such an atmosphere.

Love turns away from vanity. The vain things of this world are usually presented in such attractive dress that to look at them is to be tempted. The answer is to turn your eyes away, or better still, ask God to give you special grace not only to turn away, but to stay turned away. The vain passions of this world destroy real love, even while using the word to describe their base counterfeit.

The positive side of the matter is also clear. The manner in which love best expresses itself is in the love of God, in the established order of a life according to the law of God (v. 38). By being inclined to his testimonies it finds the right way—God's way (v. 37).

III. The Measure of Love (Matt. 22:37-40)

How far does love go? Does it have a limit? Does it choose those toward whom it will express itself, loving the lovely and ignoring or hating the rest? In answer to these questions let us first ask, What is the general character of the love that is the essence of the Christian life? The answer is evident. The world has established its own principle of conduct based on selfish advantage. It pays to be polite to those who can favor you, so cultivate their kindness. Your neighbor may be able to help you in an hour of need, so do good to him as you have opportunity.

But an enemy—what can you gain from kindness to him? Hate him, and treat him like an enemy. Christianity knows nothing of such a spirit. Even though it is necessary to oppose wicked men in order to hinder their evil plans, we need not lose our love for them. Even if they are our enemies, we may be loved for Christ's sake.

Consider him that endured such contradiction of sinners against himself (and went right on loving our love for those who bear the sad name of enemies (see Heb. 12:3), and, but it is not too high for those who know the love of Christ.

The minute organisms which we call germs have existed ever since the beginning of time. Some of them are harmful, some are helpful. The popular conception of a germ is that it is a tiny, invisible, and usually a very small, creature.

Now we're setting somewhere, the popular conception of a germ is that it is a tiny, invisible, and usually a very small, creature. The singular term which doesn't mean what we think it means.

Germ is from the French germe, from the Latin germin, "a bud, sprout, twig." Hence, that from which anything springs. The germ of the germ of wheat, the germ of life, the germ of an idea.

To those who eagerly await their new Chevrolets...

Here Is the Latest News about Chevrolet Deliveries

Everybody from factory to dealer is doing everything that can be done to speed deliveries to you

We have been informed by the Chevrolet Motor Division that the past month has witnessed only a slight improvement in the rate of production of new Chevrolet passenger cars. As a result, shipments of new cars to dealers for delivery are still far below the level we and the factory had hoped to obtain by this time. In fact, through August, Chevrolet's output of cars in 1946 was only 22.6% of the number turned out during the corresponding period of 1941.

We know that Chevrolet is doing everything possible to step up its production—to ship more and more cars to us and to its thousands of other dealers throughout America. And we know, too, that we are assured of getting our full proportionate share of the current output and of future production gains.

Disappointing as the total figures have been—and despite the fact that Chevrolet was out of production entirely during the first three months of the year—it is nevertheless true that Chevrolet led off all other manufacturers in production of passenger cars during June 1946, and has continued to maintain its lead in total production from that day to this.

We shall continue to make deliveries of new Chevrolets to our customers just as fast as we receive them; we regret delays as deeply as you do; we thank you for your friendly patience and understanding; and we promise you a new high rate of production as soon as we are able to do so.

Going Fishing? Here's How!

To hear Willie Wells and Basil Strube arguing about trout fishing, you'd think it was more important than the atom bomb.

Willie favors dry flies, Basil pooh-poos anything but wet flies. Willie swears by a Royal Coachman; Basil won't hear of anything but a Silver Doctor. And by the time it comes to steel rods versus bamboo rods... #1X4*171.

But on Saturday, each got back from Seward's creek with a catch that couldn't have differed by more than several ounces!

Although last year's output of steel was 19 per cent greater than in 1940, the last previous year, pay rolls were nearly double but dividends were lower.

There are many misunderstandings and misrepresentations about profits. Some people forget that reasonable profits are a necessary incentive of the American system, which results in abundant low-cost farm products and abundant low-cost steel products.

It is up to those who know what profits are for, and what they can do, with them that they are not destroyed—and see that their high standard of living.
